“Myocardial Preservation – Hibernation:
Nature’s Mechanism Innovated”

Co-Sponsored by NFFPE and Hibernation Therapeutics

CEU’s Pending

November 6th, 2010
North Shore University Hospital
Executive Board Rooms 1-3
145 Community Drive
Great Neck NY 11021
8:00am to 5:30pm

PRELIMINARY PROGRAM

"MYOCARDIAL PROTECTION STRATEGIES: CURRENT AND ALTERNATIVE APPROACHES TO SAVING THE BROKEN HEART"

7:45 AM Welcome – Richard Chan, CCP
Moderator – Thomas Muziani, PA, CP

MORNING SESSION
Myocardial Protection in Adult and Pediatric Patients: Is There an Alternative to Hyperkalemic Cardioplegia?

8:00-9:00 am
"The Era of Cardiac Surgery: A Call for Improved Cardioprotective Strategies"

9:00-10:00am
"Normokalemic Polarizing Cardioplegia: Natural Hibernation in the Service of Cardiac Surgery"

10:00-11:00am
"Adenocaine: From Concept to Clinical Trials"

11:00am-12:00pm
"Adenocaine Microplegia: Clinical Technique"

12:00-1:00pm – LUNCH

AFTERNOON SESSION
Myocardial Protection at the Crossroads: Urgent Need for Improved Cardioplegia Strategies

1:00-2:00pm
“Microplegia versus Blood:Crystalloid Ratio Cardioplegia Techniques: Pros and Cons”

2:00-3:00pm
“Cardioplegia Techniques Roundtable”
3:00-4:00pm
“Special Cases in Clinical Myocardial Protection: Pediatrics, Octogenarians, Heart Failure, Re-Dos”

4:00-5:00pm
“Overview and Conclusions: The Future of Myocardial Protective Strategies”

PRELIMINARY FEATURED SPEAKER LIST

William DeBois, CCP
Director, Perfusion and Perioperative Services
New York Presbyterian-Weil Cornell Campus
New York, NY

Geoffrey P. Dobson, PhD
Professor, Chair
Heart Research Laboratory
Queensland, Australia

Frederick Hill, CCP
Director, Perfusion Services
New York University Medical Center
New York, NY

Robert Kalimi, MD
Director, Minimally Invasive and Robotic Heart Valve Surgery Center
North Shore University Hospital
Manhasset, NY

Linda Mongero, CCP
Director, Perfusion Services
New York Presbyterian-Columbia Campus
New York, NY

Thomas Muziani PA, CP
Director, Clinical Applications and Development
Hibernation Therapeutics Global
Macon, GA

Jakob Vinten-Johansen, PhD
Professor of Surgery
Emory University
Atlanta, GA

Contact Ruby Bahk at rbahk@nshs.edu or 516-466-2994 for more information.